PRESS RELEASE

Equal Pay Certificate for Jobsplus

Jobsplus was awarded the equal pay certification by the National Commission for the Promotion of Equality. This certificate was awarded for the first time to three companies including Jobsplus. The certificate obtained by Jobsplus is valid for three years.

This certification underlines the commitment to comprehensively address the gender pay gap. It not only reflects a dedication to fair remuneration but also points to a wider societal effort towards promoting economic independence. It also serves as a tangible step towards achieving the government's equality agenda, especially in the context of initiatives such as the European Union directive on pay transparency.

By using the Equal Pay Tool, a tool developed by NCPE, organisations employing at least 50 people can check equal pay for work of equal value between women and men, thus fostering an environment conducive to fairer and more inclusive workplaces and fairer retirement prospects for all.

Equality is a top priority on the government agenda, with efforts focused on achieving equality between men and women.

Mr Leonid McKay, CEO of Jobsplus said that the gender pay gap extends beyond statistics. This affects lifetime income, pension and increases the risk of poverty. Equal pay empowers individuals, promoting economic independence both at work and in retirement.
